- North Severnside Benefice can only ask an individual about convictions and cautions that are not protected
- North Severnside Benefice is committed to the fair treatment of its staff, potential staff or users of its services, regardless of race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, responsibilities for dependants, age, physical/mental disability or offending background
- North Severnside Benefice has a written policy on the recruitment of ex-offenders, which is made available to all DBS applicants at the start of the recruitment process
- North Severnside Benefice actively promotes equality of opportunity for all with the right mix of talent, skills and potential and welcome applications from a wide range of candidates, including those with criminal records
- North Severnside Benefice select all candidates for interview based on their skills, qualifications and experience
- an application for a criminal record check is only submitted to DBS after a thorough risk assessment has indicated that one is both proportionate and relevant to the position concerned. For those positions where a criminal record check is identified as necessary, all application forms, job adverts and recruitment briefs will contain a statement that an application for a DBS certificate will be submitted in the event of the individual being offered the position
- North Severnside Benefice ensures that all those in North Severnside Benefice who are involved in the recruitment process have been suitably trained to identify and assess the relevance and circumstances of offences
- North Severnside Benefice also ensures that they have received appropriate guidance and training in the relevant legislation relating to the employment of ex-offenders, e.g. the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974
- at interview, or in a separate discussion, North Severnside Benefice ensures that an open and measured discussion takes place on the subject of any offences or other matter that might be relevant to the
